

SAS and Garuda Indonesia expand global connectivity through new codeshare partnership

SAS and Garuda Indonesia have entered into a new codeshare partnership that strengthens connectivity between Scandinavia and Indonesia through the combined international networks of both carriers.

The partnership will offer seamless travel options to and from Jakarta (CGK) and Bali (DPS), as well as Copenhagen, Stockholm and Oslo, with convenient connections via Amsterdam, Tokyo Haneda and, from Winter 2026/2027, Bangkok.

The agreement was signed during the IATA Annual General Meeting in Rio de Janeiro by Garuda Indonesia Director of Transformation, Neil Raymond Mills, and SAS President and CEO, Anko van der Werff.

“Garuda Indonesia is a key partner for connecting Scandinavia with Indonesia and the wider region. Together, we are making travel simpler and more seamless for the many people, businesses and communities with ties between our countries. By bringing our networks closer together, we are creating more opportunities to connect Scandinavia with one of Asia’s most dynamic markets,” said Van der Werff at SAS.

The collaboration reflects the shared ambition of both airlines as SkyTeam members to enhance global connectivity and provide broader access between Europe and Southeast Asia. For Garuda Indonesia customers, the partnership opens access to SAS’ Scandinavian gateways, while SAS travelers gain new opportunities to reach Indonesia’s major destinations through Garuda’s network.

Frequent flyer members will also benefit from the cooperation, with EuroBonus and GarudaMiles members able to earn and redeem points across the combined network.

From 9 June 2026, passengers will be able to purchase itineraries covered by the codeshare agreement through the sales channels of both airlines, while first date of travel will be 15 June.
